JUNE 2008 NEWS

EDITOR'S NOTE

No, this is not what usually appears in your mailbox this time of year. This particular mailing is simply to notify you of upcoming chapter meetings and the TVA 75th anniversary events being held around the Valley in coming weeks. It also serves as your heads-up of a special TVARA News edition you'll receive later next month in which we will highlight these events as well as a very special TVARA activity.

On May 22 and 23, our TVARA chapter leadership teams will come together for a conference to creatively explore and plan for our association's future. Much like TVA, we are working to take our "Powerful Past" into a "Bright Future."

You read in the March TVARA News about how retirement years look different than they did in the past and will continue to change. As an organization representing people of that population, we see the challenge of keeping the attention and commitment of a membership that is growing quickly in numbers and diversity in demographics. This requires that we be willing to try new things to stay in step and keep people like you involved.

The conference agenda, speakers, and topics promise energized insights and engaging action plans. Keep an eye out for your upcoming special newsletter, "Fireworks before the Fourth," edition, full of conference results.
